

A CLEANING OUT OF ILLEGAL CLUBS.

Judge Umbel Instructs Constables and Officers What to Do.

COURT KNOWS CONDITIONS

In the County, Which He Says Are Worse Than When Speakeasies Flourished in the County Some Years Ago—All Agents Must Go Too.

Special to The Courier.

UNIONTOWN, Pa., June 5.—In his charge to the Grand Jury this morning at the opening of the June term of criminal court Judge R. E. Umbel dealt at length with the conditions in Fayette county, which he said are worse than when speakeasies flourished in the county some years ago. Judge Umbel put it squarely up to the constables and police officers of Fayette county to report conditions as they actually exist in their respective districts. They are to report in writing to the District Attorney just as promptly as possible. The court told them he knew the conditions that exist, has a list of the speakeasies and clubs that are doing business illegally in Fayette county and he expects prompt action on the part of the officers. Judge Umbel also warned the distillers and brewers in Fayette county who are violating the rules of the court prohibiting the employment of agents. A continuance of this practice by the distillers and brewers in the county, the court stated, would be at the risk of losing license.

All but three members of the Grand Jury had answered to their names when the third call of the roll was completed at a little after 10 o'clock this morning. After Peter J. Guyaux of Point Marion was appointed foreman of the jury, Judge Umbel began his address. The substance of the court's remarks was as follows, aside from the customary directions to the jury regarding criminal procedure, road views, etc.:

The court has one or two pertinent statements to make for the benefit of the Constables of the county. Personally and by letter the court has been informed of the great spread of speakeasies and clubs in the county where the sale of liquor and alcoholic drinks is illegally conducted. It is impossible for the Constables not to have knowledge of this state of affairs. The excuse that it is unpleasant and hard to get information in these matters will not satisfy the court. Only the Constables can avoid this unpleasant task, if they make it so, is to resign. Some years ago the existence of speakeasies in Fayette county was widespread, but from information the court has at hand it is a fact that conditions are worse today than they ever were. Many places that are nothing more than speakeasies go under the names of clubs. A large number of these clubs were chartered last year. Their organizers and the persons directing them today pay no attention to the objects or purposes for which it was stated the clubs were chartered. The Constables must look into these clubs and report their reasons for existence and how they are conducted. They must make a written report to the District Attorney. Some of these clubs not only tolerate, but encourage gambling in their rooms.

The court stated he endorsed the comment of a judge in a neighboring district to the effect that the organizers of clubs and societies, some of which come under the ban in Fayette county, were engaged in nothing more than a skin game. The court stated that this year between 6,000 and 7,000 internal revenue licenses were taken out in this district as shown by notes records at Pittsburgh. Of this number over 200 were granted to persons in Fayette county. A large proportion of them are for places that sell liquor illegally. There is a widespread idea that a person can not be prosecuted for the illegal sale of liquor if he holds an internal revenue license. Such is not the case. Such a license does not prevent severe prosecution. Where it is shown that the clubs and societies are not being conducted for the purposes stated at the time of their being chartered the court will revoke the charters. The Constables and the police must cooperate in this. The court knows what is to be accomplished, knows where the illegal sale of liquor is being conducted and expects the officers of the county to do their duty.

The court stated that some clubs are doing more business than licensed hotels. They run day and night, keep open on Sundays and holidays and the records of the breweries and distillers from whom they obtain their liquor and beverage show that they are doing more business per week than licensed hotels.

The court made it plain that brewers and distillers must abolish all agents or abide by the consequences.

He stated that violations of the court's orders in this respect were particularly conspicuous since the licenses were granted this year. The court referred to a recent Supreme Court decision covering the rights of the brewers and distillers and the employment and soliciting of agents, and said that either of two things would be done: prosecutions would be made or licenses would be refused.

Some distillers and brewers in the county have almost openly violated the order of the court prohibiting the employment of agents, while others have gotten around it in a secret manner as possible. On the other hand there are distillers and brewers in the county who are strictly observing the order of the court not to employ agents.

Three bills in divorce were filed in court today. Mollie E. Hurt wishes to be released from Joseph C. Hurt, on the ground of desertion. The couple were married in Pittsburgh, August 11, 1891 and Joseph departed in 1898. The plaintiff resides at Mill Run; the residence of the defendant is unknown. H. G. May is attorney.

In the case of Cora M. Fagan against Frank Fagan, cruel treatment is charged. The couple were married in Uniontown November 3, 1900, and have since resided in Connellsville. R. R. Goldsmith is attorney.

In the case of Katharine Bartonik against Joseph Bartonik, the charge is desertion. The couple were married in Austria, February 10, 1899. The plaintiff has since resided in Whitsett. R. W. Dawson is attorney.

On motion of Attorney H. G. May, Attorney J. K. Renner was appointed master in the divorce case of Rachel Ann O'Leary against John O'Leary.

In the matter of the petition of a number of citizens of Brownsville borough, praying for a division of the borough into two or more wards, on motion of Attorney S. R. Shelby the court appointed James B. Hogg, Frank W. Hyatt and Robert D. Henry as viewers.

The first case tried by jury in criminal court this morning was that of Joseph Miner, charged with absconding from a board bill amounting to $23.25. Mrs. James Frank, of Franklin township, was prosecutrix. Miner was found guilty.

Joseph Hresick pleaded guilty to violating the mining law and was sentenced to pay the costs and a fine of $25. Mine Inspector F. W. Cunningham was prosecutor.

James Carr, prosecuted for desertion and non-support by Laura Carr, was sentenced to pay the costs of prosecution, and pay his wife $5 per week. He was placed under bond of $200.

The Grand Jury returned two true bills against Frank Holmures, or Holmurtz. Under the former name he is charged with willful mischief by Elmer E. Grimm, and under the latter name he is charged with breaking and entering by C. K. McCaffrey. In the Holmures case, the matter is referred to the viewers, the petitioners and those making exceptions to the report of the viewers, agree that the matter should come before the present Grand Jury, and if the Grand Jury returns a verdict unfavorable to the bridge, the court should then take up the exceptions which have already been filed.

Attorney E. D. Brown, administrator of the estate of the late Louis L. Hunter of Springhill township, was authorized by Judge Work in Orphan's Court to sell the realty in order to pay off the debts.

Newly Invented Gyroscopic Compass and the United States Vessel on Which It Was Given Test.

NEW YORK, June 5.—The latest advance in marine affairs is the gyroscopic compass, which will, it is believed, insure absolute accuracy in navigation and so lessen the "dangers of the deep." The apparatus, combined with a compass, gives absolute accuracy in ascertaining the true magnetic pole. When the needle points to the pole and the gyroscopic compass is absolutely no influence that can make it deviate, according to Elmer A. Spear, the well known New York engineer, who invented the mechanism. The invention has been tested on the United States torpedo boat destroyer Druyton, and the trials were successful.

Engineer Spear will endeavor to have his invention installed on all the United States warships, as he argues that it will prevent many wrecks and continuing misadventures. The deviation of the compass needle from the true magnetic pole has always proved a menace to deep sea sailing craft.

Meyersdale Row Ends in Murder

Mike Byelle, aged 31, who was shot in a row at Meyersdale May 28, died at the Cottage State hospital last evening. Severe pneumonia was the cause of death. Byelle worked for Contractors Barham and Fitzpatrick on the new Western Maryland railroad.

This morning Coroner Henry S. Kimball of Somerset county came to Connellsville and held the inquest. A postmortem was held over the body in which Drs. H. J. Coll, Hugh Baker and J. C. McClellan participated.

The coroner's jury was composed of C. B. Lane, John Davis, W. W. Glatfely, George Marlett, D. R. Long and William McCormick.

The coroner's jury rendered a verdict that Byelle died from injuries resulting from a shot fired by unknown parties.

Miner, county evangelist, spoke on "Personal evangelism as it should be practised in Fayette county."

Schedules for the special cars to the county convention at Brownsville on June 12 and 13 were announced by President DeYoe.

In the evening, Rev. T. M. Gladden and County Secretary B. S. Forsythe delivered addresses.

Postmaster Kurtz Opposes New Fire House on the Borough Ground.

Postmaster A. E. Kurtz has taken up with Council the matter of building a fire house on the borough lot adjoining the City Hall and facing on Arch street. Mr. Kurtz believes if the borough can secure a location elsewhere it should be done.

The opposition of the Postmaster to the erection of the fire house is purely esthetic. He believes the new Federal building, which will be the handsomest piece of architecture in the city, should not be obstructed from view by a very ordinary looking fire house. Should the fire house be erected, it will prevent the Federal building from being seen by passengers on Baltimore & Ohio trains passing along Water street. Instead of gazing upon the beautiful outlines of the new postoffice, the traveling public will be confronted by a rear view of the fire house, in which economy is to be used in construction and little attention paid to architectural view from the rear, it is said.

President James B. Miller of Town Council has promised to bring the matter before other members of that body. Mr. Kurtz contends that the Arch street site is not desirable for a fire house anyhow because there is an uphill pull for the fire wagon in practically every direction.

Wm. Beilstein Makes Statement

William Beilstein, the well known Dunbar township truck gardener, who is a prominent member of St. John's German Lutheran church, Saturday gave The Courier the following statement, his version of the trouble in the church congregation:

"I answer to Rev. Dietz unqualifiedly. I must say that the meeting on the 28th was a fully legal meeting, according to the constitution of the congregation. The call for it was signed by ten members in good standing. The call was handed to the Church Council at their regular meeting. It was also given over to Rev. Dietz for publication by them and after they had transacted all the business of their meeting seven members of the Council signed the petition for a meeting to discharge Rev. Dietz. He refused to recognize the action of the congregation so I published the action according to the constitution myself. Rev. Dietz states he will have 150 members in good standing at a congregational meeting to vote for him, but he knows well that at the last audit in January there were only 99 good standing members.

"Rev. Dietz had no legal right to call police protection on Sunday against an orderly church meeting. All those present were United States citizens and property holders."

Striking Shopmen Today Issue a Defi

United Press Telegram. PITTSBURGH, June 5.—The grievance committee of the striking shopmen of the Pennsylvania railroad today issued a deft for a debate with the transportation department, employees as to why the trainmen should not join the strike.

This it is thought marks another rift in the breach between the trainmen and the American Federation of Labor, and it may lead to serious trouble. Things are quiet in Pittsford and other shops in the Pittsburgh district. At Brownsville, however, the strikers may send a delegation to Washington to complain of the action of the railroad employees on the street. The citizens say the detectives insult pedestrians and women and incite them to riot and disorder.

Vicious Bulldog Bit Young Lad

A vicious bulldog owned by Charles Rush of Second street, West Side, bit a young Italian boy Saturday evening about 6 o'clock and caused considerable excitement in the neighborhood. The boy's leg was badly torn and lacerated as a result of the animal's attack and it was with difficulty that the dog could be forced to release its fangs from the bleeding flesh.

Policeman Henry Geiger made short work of the dog, which was brought to the lockup and summarily executed. The lad has his injuries dressed and was taken home. No one seemed to know his identity other than he was a son of an Italian widow. He was begging, it is said, when attacked by the dog.

Sixteen Years Trinity's Pastor

Yesterday at Trinity Lutheran church Rev. Ellis B. Burgess celebrated his sixteenth year as pastor. Special services were held at the church, commemorative of the occasion, the subject of Rev. Burgess' morning talk being "The Life of a Successful Congregation." The new Trinity church chimes were played by R. O. Clabaugh in the morning.

During the 16 years Rev. Burgess has been pastor the church has raised $22,012.05; there have been 665 infant baptisms and 557 added to the church rolls. The present membership is 724. There are 900 in the Sunday school, 121 in the Woman's Missionary Society, and 86 in the Ladies' Aid Society.

MIKE MISKOLCI PUZZLES POLICE.

Supposedly Demented Man Will Be Taken to Uniontown Today.

CHIEF GEORGE HETZEL GOT HIM

Fire Chief Mitchell Had Hot Tip He Was Wanted for Pennsylvania Train Robbery But It Is Decided Miskolci Is Only "Bugs."

The queerest specimen of humanity the police have yet apprehended is Mike Miskolci, whom Chief of Police George Hetzel arrested Saturday evening. Fire Chief J. W. Mitchell spotted Miskolci and from papers found in his possession he had every indication of being a dangerous character. Mike can talk. He talks a blue streak despite his foreign birth. He can talk on almost any subject, but likes to tell things about himself and the Constitution of the United States best.

Mike was fairly well behaved until this morning when he became violent and had to be locked in a cell. He will be taken to Uniontown this afternoon by Constable B. Rottler and the county authorities can take charge of him.

Fire Chief Mitchell was the man wanted for holding up a Pennsylvania train at the Lewistown, Narrows on August 12, last, but abandoned that theory when he learned the daring holdup was perpetrated by an Irishman. Miskolci had been at the Lewistown Narrows holdup and also some Black Hand notes, a secret code of some kind and a superabundance of Pennsylvania railroad time tables. It is believed he is mentally unbalanced. He told "twisted" tales of being jammed through the rolls at Homestead, and coming out unscathed. That yarn excited it with the police and Mike was held.

Hitch Over Sign Amicably Adjusted

The hitch between the Wright-Metzler Company and the Bell telephone officials resulting from the erection of the new electric sign, which featured several telephone wires along Main street, has been amicably adjusted with but little trouble. It was at first thought the sign would have to be raised a few inches, a difficult undertaking, but V. H. Dake of the Central District Printing & Telegraph Company was here from Pittsburgh Saturday afternoon and adjusted the matter.

Mr. Dake stated that the company would insulate its wires where they come in contact with the sign. The willingness of the Bell company to meet the trouble in this way is of great convenience to the Wright-Metzler Company and Electrical Contractor A. J. Buttermore, who is putting the sign up.

"Unsettled" Was Correct Forecast

The forecast for unsettled weather yesterday proved correct. The weather was somewhat unsettled during the late afternoon when a wind storm swept over town. It did not last long but while the wind raged everything portable was banged about in a terrific manner.

The wind was accompanied by a hard rain which was also of brief duration. It did some good, however. Early this morning the storm was reported but no damage was reported.

The temperature yesterday morning was 72 and in the afternoon it reached 84. This morning started at 72 and was cool and pleasant up to noon when the temperature rose. Clouds also formed which threatened another storm.

United Press Telegram. WASHINGTON, June 5.—After having traveled all the way from Connelville, Pa., to the White House, a man has been found who is willing to pay off the mortgage on the White House. The man, Jacob Rusterholz, aged 72, was arrested at Union station here five minutes before the President arrived from his trip from Chicago today. The secret service operatives express the belief that the old man is harmless. Rusterholz changed trains at New York and arrived here at 10:30 a. m. J. P. Shepley, noticed that he was acting strangely. Shepley approached Rusterholz who said "I am going to Washington to have President Taft pay off my mortgage. I have an appointment with him." The general effect of the gown and trimmings is to give a suggestion of snakeskin. The front of the gown is of heavy white lace, and down the sides and back heads and spangles are arranged to give the impression of scales.

Senator McCumber Tells Hermann Ridder He Does Not Tell Truth

IN HEARING ON RECIPROCITY

Ridder Had Stated That No Instructions Were Given as to the Tone of Articles Printed on Reciprocity to Press Associations.

United Press Telegram. WASHINGTON, June 5.—Newspaper men were summoned before the Senate committee on finance today at the hearing on the reciprocity bill. The witnesses included Hermann Ridder, former President of the American Newspaper Publishers' Association and President of the New York State-Zeitung; Frank B. Noyes, President, and Melville E. Stone, General Manager of the Associated Press; Frank Hildebrand, publisher of the Louisville Courier-Journal and President of the American Newspaper Publishers' Association.

Ridder, the first witness, had not proceeded far when a lively scene was caused by McCumber, taking exception to his statement as to the attitude of the newspapers on reciprocity. Heyburn asked Ridder about the postal letters and circulars of the Publishers' Association which were submitted to the committee by Ridder. Ridder said that he had asked publishers to instruct their Washington correspondents to treat reciprocity favorably, referring to the importance of free print paper and pulp for newspapers.

"Did you give instructions as to the tone of the articles to be used with regard to reciprocity?" asked Heyburn. "There were no such instructions," said Ridder. "The facts are that the press associations and newspapers have given both sides of the question."

"Senator McCumber's face flushed with rage and jumping to his feet he shouted: 'That is an absolute falsehood and I want the record to show it.'"

"I protest," said Stone. "A member of the committee has not the right to insult a witness."

"I did not insult the witness," exclaimed McCumber, "his statement was untrue."

Despair and Despondency

No one but a woman can tell the story of the suffering, the despair, and the despondency endured by women who carry a daily burden of ill-health and pain because of disorders and derangements of the delicate and important organs that are distinctly feminine. The torments so bravely endured completely under the nerves if long continued. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is a positive cure for weakness and disease of the feminine organism.

IT MAKES WEAK WOMEN STRONG, SICK WOMEN WELL.

It allays inflammation, heals ulceration and soothes pain. It tones and builds up the nerves. It fits for wifehood and motherhood. Honest medicine dealers sell it, and have nothing to urge upon you as "just as good." It is non-secret, non-alcoholic and has a record of forty years of cures. Ask Your Neighbors. They probably know of some of its many cures. If you want a book that tells all about women's diseases, and how to cure them at home, send 21 one-cent stamps to Dr. Pierce to pay cost of mailing and he will send you a free copy of his great thousand-page illustrated Common Sense Medical Adviser, revised, up-to-date edition, in paper covers. MONDAY EVENING, JUNE 5, 1911.

REASONS OF THE GARY
BY-PRODUCT COKE PLANT.

A Pittsburgh broker gravely tells the public that the United States Steel Corporation is negotiating for the purchase of the coke plant holdings of the Pittsburgh Coal Company and the Monongahela River Coal & Coke Company, because "the profitable operation of the Gary plant necessitates the use of Pittsburgh coal, an Illinois coal has been found lacking in heating and steaming properties."

The Gary plant is now equipped with about 300 by-product ovens of the latest and most improved pattern.
They are capable of producing all the coke necessary for heating and steaming purposes, not to mention some minor by-products, and these ovens are now being run on Indiana and Illinois coal exclusively. The Steel Corporation having purchased at a low price 72,000 acres of this coal for this purpose. The statement that this coal is "lacking in heating and steaming properties" betrays a lamentable lack of information concerning the purposes to which it is being put.

The rumor that the Steel Corporation is negotiating for the Pittsburgh coal holdings in the Conneltsville region lacks confirmation as yet, but if the Steel Corporation does buy this coal property it will probably be for the purpose of enlarging its Conneltsville
holdings for home consumption rather than for shipment to Gary. The policy of the Steel Corporation will undoubtedly be to reserve the Conneltsville coke field for the Pittsburgh iron and steel district.

Such a policy would be eminently
wise and proper for several reasons, but only one need be mentioned. The freight rate from the Conneltsville coke region to the Pittsburgh iron and steel district is 20 cents per ton; to Chicago, it is 25 cents per ton. This diagram may enable some Pittsburgh brokers to figure out why by-product
cokes from Illinois coal is a more economical proposition for Gary than Conneltsville coke or Pittsburgh coal shipped for coking purposes to the Gary
by-product plant.

THE POLICY OF THE LAW AND THE STEEL CORPORATION.

The statement of Judge Gary giving his reasons for opposing the policy of cutting steel prices is only a characteristic and consistent statement of United States Steel Corporation policy. Briefly that policy is to maintain the market at fair price levels, permitting competitors a fair share of the business at those fair prices, to the end that the manufacturers will be at all times able to pay their stockholders fair dividends and their employees fair wages.

Judge Gary points out that one of the inevitable results of price cutting if pursued to any great lengths in ware cutting, and no incentive that great corporations have public obligations which they may not ignore. His meaning is plain. The decisions of the courts and of the people are that the Benevolent Trust has come to stay and that it is a long-felt want;
but that the Oppressive Trust is an industrial tyrant, inconsistent in person and practice with our free institutions and must be resolved into its original elements, cleansed of its sin and returned to the fold only when it is in righteous wrath.

The big corporations which have become so through mutual exultation and whose efforts have been directed to serving the public faithfully and honestly are following the example of the United States Steel Corporation
in the matter of government regulation. They no longer fight it; they invite it.

They say in effect that if the Government is not satisfied with their management they will let the Government manage, always assuming that the Government is willing to assume all the legitimate responsibilities of that management, including the regulation of prices and the wages of labor.

WASHINGTON
CORRESPONDENCE.

United Press Special.

WASHINGTON, June 5.

The end of the seventh year of work on the Panama Canal by the United States, on May 1, found three fourths of the excavation completed.

There have been 13,000,000 cubic yards of the isthmus shifted by American steam shovels and excavators, leaving only 11,000,000 cubic yards of digging to be done, but by a decrease of cost.

The placing of concrete, used in construction of the locks for the canal, is 21 per cent accomplished. There have been placed 1,125,000 cubic yards of concrete, out of a total of 5,350,000 cubic yards.

The installation of the lock gates,
has been begun, and the machinery for the operation of the gates and the towing of ships will shortly be put in possession. The lock gates are immense steel structures, for the handling of which, special machinery has been devised. The lock gates are being completed, while those at Miraflores, are well under way and will be ready for use as soon as the new installing and handling plant for the concrete is established.

In connection with the excavation,
a new development during the twelve months just ended was the increase in the number of ships in the Panama Canal,
the largest piece of excavation the world has ever known. The banks have been built in places in a distance of nine miles in this cut, necessitating an addition of 6,100,000 cubic yards to be excavated. The latter cause no apprehension for the future, as after the locks are completed, it will be possible to construct the dredges for removal of the material that remains and which may slide in.

Half of the remaining 44,000,000 cubic yards of excavation to be done in the Culebra Cut. The rate of excavation in this cut has increased by a million cubic yards a year since 1907, until during the twelve months just ended, 15,250,000 cubic yards were taken out.

Great progress has been made at the Culebra Dam, and also the breakwaters
at the Atlantic and Pacific entrances.
Docks are under construction at both entrances. Plans have been drawn up for buoying and lighting the canal and for improving construction will begin soon.

The Public Health and Marine Hospital Service has just completed an extensive set of mortality statistics from the entire world, showing that,
barring earthquakes, measles, typhoid,
and influenza, the most deadly diseases
so far as sickness is concerned, the annual death rate there is only 9.87
out of every 1,000.

The emerald fields of Ireland, for all their beauty, are not particularly enthusiastic to longevity, according to a report. The annual death rate of the entire island is 20.5 per 1,000, in the concentric town of Killybeggs, the percentage amounts to 41.2 per 1,000.

From the report it would seem that great relief might be expected from show mortality averages ranging from possession, with the exception of England and Wales. In South Africa for instance, the average rate is about 27.2 per 1,000, and even in rugged Scotland it is 17 per 1,000.

Reports from various other countries
show mortality averages ranging from 15 to 22 per cent or higher.

Considering all the reports together,
the certain conclusion is that if one would live long, he had better stay in the United States. Here the average death rate for the last year was only 12.5 per 1,000, and modern hygiene methods as expected soon to reduce these figures, for a nation of 80,000,000 people, to a percentage less than that of little Mexico. And the United States has very few earthquakes, too.

Minister Cullman, at Peking has reported to the State Department that the Grand Council, the executive body of the Chinese government, was recently abolished, and a cabinet formed upon the lines of those in the Western nations.

The heads of the board are now selected ministers and constitute the cabinet. Prince Ching, now in charge of the board of Foreign Affairs, has been made a member of the new cabinet. Liang Tzu Yen, who is now in the United States, has been appointed Minister for Foreign Affairs, under Prince Ching.

The Grand Council heretofore has been composed of the heads of the departments, though occasionally
some of these have been members of it.
The Council consisted of five members, while there are twelve departments in the government. Two of these departments, headed by the Board of Rights and the Board of Civil Office, have been abolished with the formation of the new cabinet.

Starting June 1st, The Union Supply Company, will inaugurate in every department of every one of their 63 stores, a great clearance sale. June is our semi-annual inventory month. It is the time we select for reducing stock; moving out all surplus. It is the time everybody in the coke region takes advantage of the reduced prices, and it is the time everybody making purchases saves money. The inventory sale is going to offer this season special runs on shoes and made up raiment for men, women,
boys and girls.

CLEARANCE SALE INVENTORY BARGAINS

We believe the shoe bargains we are going to offer this month, will be the most sensational ever seen in the coke region. If there is one department in our stores that is entirely too heavily loaded with stock, it is the shoe department. We are going to reduce them and take this means of doing it. They are general lines. The daintiest styles that the market produces for the women; the most comfortable lasts that can be made for the men; good strong knock-a-bouts for the boys; tasty nice styles for the

SCOTSDALE.

Special to The Courier.

SCOTSDALE, June 5.—The country west of town spent the quietest Sunday in weeks yesterday, the posting of notices that the lands about the new "Private Property" and the publication of a few days ago of the fact that Mauck's hollow is barred to the public seeming to have a good effect. While there were a few boys went along the roads and yelled vigorously, the great numbers that have annoyed the residents of that section by their disorderly conduct were absent. No one ventured trespassing where the signs notified them that all the land about there is private property and people shall keep off. This conclusion on the part of the property owners was reached when the imposition set up by visitors grow to such disgraceful proportions that Sunday was a day of discipline, and when law abiding people out on the roads complained to the property owners that the latter were permitting a nuisance to exist.

Sunday School Picnic.

In the Methodist Episcopal Sunday school yesterday morning the subject of a picnic was again brought up. The Sunday school voted to leave the picnic in the hands of the Men's Bible class, giving the class the power to make arrangements to go ahead with the picnic. J. T. Strickler, the president of the class, on motion, appointed a committee consisting of Robert M. Young, chairman, A. L. Foster and M. L. Hanes to make the necessary arrangements. The class was favorable to holding the picnic on a Thursday, saying it is the easiest day of the week to get away, and is the easiest one of the week for the women to prepare for such an affair. The committee will arrange for the outing as soon as they can and report to the class.

Gone to California.

Miss Edna Rhodes, who was graduated from the Scottdale High school last week, left Saturday for the California State Normal school to take a course at that institution.

In Bedford County.

Mrs. Arthur Wilson and children of near town left Saturday morning for Bedford county to visit with relatives Bible Conference.

The first conference under the auspices of the Men's Bible Conference Committee of Scottdale opened yesterday with a great crowd in the Baptist church at 3:30 in the afternoon. Prior to this there was a well attended meeting of the committee, at which the importance of these Bible conferences to any community was outlined.

Threatening Storm.

One of the most threatening storms in years came up out of the west yesterday afternoon, the sky darkening black and with an arc light of white, showing like a rainbow from horizon to horizon in the west. The clouds under a wadstorm came eastward and there was a heavy rain and wind that blew down some trees and made damage that way. There was a small thunder storm with the wind, and at three o'clock this morning another brief thunder storm.

Modern Woodmen Out.

There was a large attendance at the Modern Woodmen's Memorial services which they held at the Scottdale and St. John cemeteries yesterday afternoon. They carried through the regular memorial ritual in impressive and beautiful style.

Country Side Came In to Celebrate Smiths' 14th Wedding Anniversary.

Mr. and Mrs. John T. Smith of Himsdale Farm, Dunbar township, were agreeably surprised on Saturday morning at 11 o'clock by the people of the surrounding country and their relatives turning out en masse. The occasion was their 14th wedding anniversary and it came as a complete surprise to the host and his wife as they knew nothing about it till the buggies, carriages and wagons began to arrive. They came in from every road, bringing well filled baskets as only the country people know how. It looked like the multitude could have been filled. They kept arriving till the house and lawn were almost filled with guests. And then such a dinner, cakes, pies, pickles, cheese, chicken and not only dinner, but the people stayed for supper and had plenty left to have fed many more. The young people amused themselves by playing games and wandering out over the farm to gather the first ripe strawberries. The older people gathered over the lawn and discussed the growing crops, while a good many of the men walked over Mr. Smith's father's market garden which adjoins, to see the growing fruits and vegetable crops and also the greenhouse. At about 5:30 the guests departed to their homes while their hosts many more such anniversaries. The guests present were: Mr. and Mrs. T. H. Smith and daughters, Bessie and Myrtle, Mrs. E. F. Woodward, Dempsey and Elma, Mr. A. L. Graham, Elroy, Dorothy and Kenneth of Bedford; Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Hightsham and sons, Linley and Robert, of Smock; Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Woodward and son, Leo of Koller; Edna Woodward of Donora; Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Junk, Uniontown; Mrs. Ella Bryson and daughter, West Leaning; Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Arnold and sons, Harold, Walter and Jesse, Vanderbilt; Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Ogilvie and children, Clark, Edgar,

Mullin of this place, were out of town earlier on Saturday.

During the high wind and rain Sunday afternoon a coal lorry was blown from the Standard shaft to the fan house where it was blown from the track. It required several men, a dinky engine and about half an hour's work to get it on the track again.

THE TWO SENATORS WHO CAN DECIDE FATE OF LORIMER.

WASHINGTON, June 5.—A reopening of the Lorimer case has been ordered by the Senate. The progressive Republicans and a fraction of the Democrats favored the designation of a committee composed entirely of newly elected Senators. A major portion of the Democrats supported a resolution offered by Senator E. C. Martin directing the committee on privileges and elections to make the investigation as a whole. The Martin resolution was accepted by the regular Republicans and was adopted by a vote of 18 to 20. Eight members of the committee will be constituted a special committee to investigate the charges that Lorimer got his Senate sent through bribery.

This committee will be composed as follows: Senators Dillingham, Sutherland, Kenyon and Gamble, Republicans, and Senators Johnston, Kern, Lea and Fletcher, Democrats. Senator Dillingham of Vermont, chairman of the committee on privileges and elections, and Senator Martin, who is the Democratic leader in the upper house, now hold the balance of power in determining the fate of the blonde haired, blue eyed Senator from Illinois. Dillingham can control the action of the committee, it is generally conceded, and Martin can influence enough Democratic votes for or against the adoption of the committee's report that will decide the reopened Lorimer case one way or the other.

History Tells a Tale of Billions

A story of millions as told in the blunt but intensely interesting form of a financial review of the history of the United States Steel Corporation has been issued in book form under the title of "A Decade in United States Steel." The book gives a history of the growth of this largest industrial corporation in the world from its organization April 1, 1901, to the present time, showing what it has earned, what it has paid to employees, what it has paid to shareholders, what it has added to its surplus and proper to account and traces an interesting trend of development along higher lines of efficiency in making steel with a higher cost in wages and at the same time a greater value placed behind the stock and bonds of the corporation.

The book is published by Dow Jones & Company, publishers of the Wall Street Journal, New York, and in the 16 pages of the publication, with an additional comparative table, brings foremost to attention the fact that the United States Steel Corporation has paid over $12,000,000 more in wages to its employees than it has paid to its stockholders in dividends during the 10 years of its existence.

The corporation during the first 10 years of its life has done a total gross business of $3,812,171,721. Its earnings during this period amounted to $1,202,214,515. Its dividend and interest payments on bonds amounted to $65,000,000 less than what the company paid in wages in spite of increasing the wages of its employees 12 per cent during the 10 years, and reducing the selling price of its finished material at the same time, the company has added to its property value, which represents its capital value, a total of $759,000,000. In other words, there is just $350,000,000 more value to its stock now than when the corporation was formed.

The drawings of the corporation for the 10 years have been sufficient to average 9 per cent for common stock dividend. The capacity of the mills and furnaces of the corporation has been increased 80 per cent during the same decade, without adding anything in the way of fixed charges. The tendency downward of steel prices during the period has been steady and in spite of this leading product it has amounted to $1.50 a ton, which makes a difference of nearly $60,000,000 a year in earnings. In spite of this, the earnings have been maintained because of the increased efficiency of plants and equipment, labor saving devices and larger production. Operating costs have been greater also.

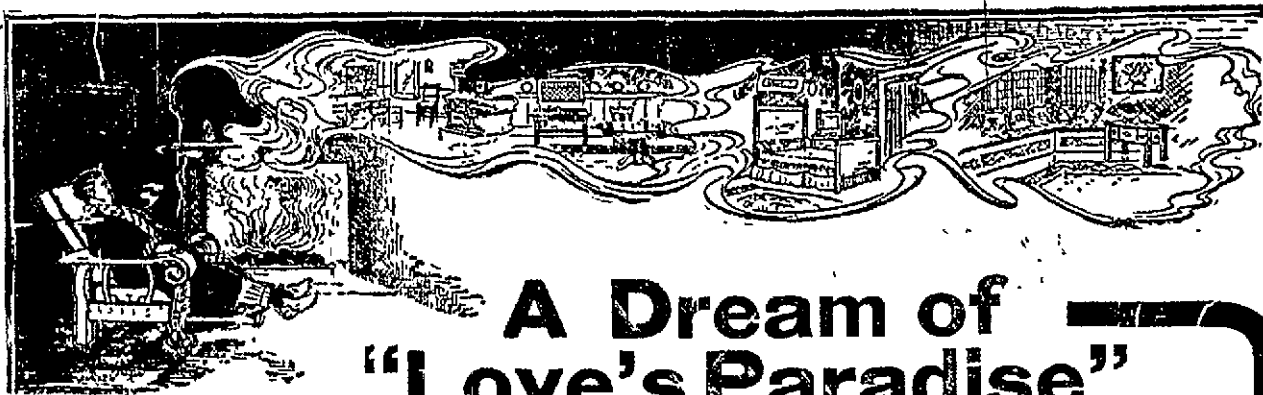

In the 10 years the Steel Corporation has made the sale of the corporation of 55,000,000 tons of finished steel. The average price of labor in 1901 paid by the corporation was $17 a year a man. In 1910 it had increased to $50 a year a man. The employees received $712,000,000 more than the stockholders and bondholders together. They have worked fewer hours, have had Sunday rest, and have been provided with pension, sick and disability funds, and out of a total of 225,000 employees, 25,000 have become stockholders of the corporation, buying their stock on an installment plan and at much lower than market values, which in dividends and enhanced value has resulted in a benefit of some millions of dollars for those employees holding the stock.

The close of the 10 years shows that a depreciation and ordinary repair fund of $31,630,000 has been provided out of the gross earnings of the corporation and there is on hand an undivided surplus of $164,143,357, which means a net increase in 10 years in this fund of $139,111,000. The actual additions to assets of the corporation made as summarized were: For improvements in new equipment and reduction of capital, $336,170,521, and increased known iron ore holdings based on the value of $1 a ton of $350,000, while the expenditure for ordinary repairs and depreciation and sinking funds there has been provided $205,015,000, making a gain in value for the 10 years of the enormous total of $1,216,303,521. That great showing in 10 years is considered a monument to efficient direction and management.

When the corporation began business 10 years ago it controlled 66 per cent of the total production of iron and steel in the country. It has increased its production capacity from 7,715,000 tons to 14,750,000 tons, or 80 per cent, but today controls less than 55 per cent of the total iron and steel production of the country because the independent steel companies have increased more rapidly. The author declares that the adoption of the policy of publicity by the Steel Corporation at the outset has not only resulted in confidence in its affairs by the people, but has forced many other corporations to submit reports to the shareholders, that had never done so before.

Why Gary Wanted No Cut in Price

NEW YORK, June 5.—The arguments with which Judge Elbert H. Gary, chairman of the directors of the United States Steel Corporation, addressed iron and steel manufacturers whom he had here as guests at a luncheon a week ago to discuss the independent action of the Republic Iron & Steel Company in reducing prices, became known yesterday when Judge Gary made public the text of his speech and threw more light upon what occurred behind the closed doors of the dining room at the Metropolitan club, where the conference was held.

Judge Gary argued for continued cooperation among the steel makers and for stability in prices, but his apparent wishes on the price question were overruled by a general decision to meet the cuts of the Republic company. In the course of his remarks Judge Gary touched upon the possibility of wage reductions the value of fair dealing and frankness among the manufacturers and the right, and duties of great corporations in view of the recent supreme court decision in the Standard Oil case.

"I have advocated, and shall always advocate, so long as I believe I have a right to do so," said Judge Gary, "the stability of prices, the regularity of business conduct on the part of all that is calculated to recognize and advance the interests of others."

"I have urged you to remember and maintain attention to the fact that when you make substantial reductions in your prices, you reduce to a price that is unfair and unreasonable and you make so small a profit that it does not yield you a fair return on your investment and your risk, you at least price for consideration before anyone has the possibility of reducing the cost of production, including profitably. If you principally, the wages which you do paying, or may be allowed to pay, to the men or the men in your employ. Do not forget that the laboring men, the employees of the corporations, have more at risk, when these questions are considered of reducing prices below what is reasonable and fair, than the employer."

Referring to the bombshell which the Republic company threw into the steel market by reducing prices, Judge Gary said: "I would not expect or ask anyone to do anything he believed wrong, legally or morally, but on the other hand, gentlemen, if anyone who has been co-operating in a lawful way, in secret, but under conditions well known and frequently exposed by all of us, suddenly changes his opinion and believes it is for his pecuniary interest for the time being to withdraw from associating with us and declines to give us any information concerning what he is doing or proposes to do, leaving himself free to go to your customers and mine and get the business for himself, regardless of price, and securing for himself a customer who has been your customer for years, then I do not hesitate to say that, so far as I am concerned, I am perfectly willing to let him stand outside of the circle of intercourse and friendly conversation and open and above-board fair dealing and frankness in expression, but if I have sufficient influence, it shall not in the least affect the relations of all the rest of us."

In discussing, at the outset of his address, the Standard Oil decision, Judge Gary said that he disagreed with the statements of some people that the Supreme Court had modified the Sherman law and had read into that act the word "unreasonable." He said he was inclined to think that even if that were true "the adoption of that view and conduct based upon it might result in very great harm to the business interests of the country generally."

"The Supreme Court, instead of saying that there may be reasonable restriction of trade or reasonable monopolies," he believed, "intended to say that in the application of the law to the facts in a case there must be a reason exercised."

TENER TO SIGN MONEY BILLS.

Governor Ready to Act on 300 Appropriation Measures.

HARRISBURG, June 5.—Governor John K. Tener is expected to return to Harrisburg today and immediately will take up appropriation bills left on his desk by the Legislature. The Governor spent several days last week considering such bills and is ready to act on about 300 of them.

Referring to the bombshell which the Republic company threw into the steel market by reducing prices, Judge Gary said: "I would not expect or ask anyone to do anything he believed wrong, legally or morally, but on the other hand, gentlemen, if anyone who has been co-operating in a lawful way, in secret, but under conditions well known and frequently exposed by all of us, suddenly changes his opinion and believes it is for his pecuniary interest for the time being to withdraw from associating with us and declines to give us any information concerning what he is doing or proposes to do, leaving himself free to go to your customers and mine and get the business for himself, regardless of price, and securing for himself a customer who has been your customer for years, then I do not hesitate to say that, so far as I am concerned, I am perfectly willing to let him stand outside of the circle of intercourse and friendly conversation and open and above-board fair dealing and frankness in expression, but if I have sufficient influence, it shall not in the least affect the relations of all the rest of us."

In discussing, at the outset of his address, the Standard Oil decision, Judge Gary said that he disagreed with the statements of some people that the Supreme Court had modified the Sherman law and had read into that act the word "unreasonable." He said he was inclined to think that even if that were true "the adoption of that view and conduct based upon it might result in very great harm to the business interests of the country generally."

"The Supreme Court, instead of saying that there may be reasonable restriction of trade or reasonable monopolies," he believed, "intended to say that in the application of the law to the facts in a case there must be a reason exercised."

"I have urged you to remember and maintain attention to the fact that when you make substantial reductions in your prices, you reduce to a price that is unfair and unreasonable and you make so small a profit that it does not yield you a fair return on your investment and your risk, you at least price for consideration before anyone has the possibility of reducing the cost of production, including profitably. If you principally, the wages which you do paying, or may be allowed to pay, to the men or the men in your employ. Do not forget that the laboring men, the employees of the corporations, have more at risk, when these questions are considered of reducing prices below what is reasonable and fair, than the employer."

Referring to the bombshell which the Republic company threw into the steel market by reducing prices, Judge Gary said: "I would not expect or ask anyone to do anything he believed wrong, legally or morally, but on the other hand, gentlemen, if anyone who has been co-operating in a lawful way, in secret, but under conditions well known and frequently exposed by all of us, suddenly changes his opinion and believes it is for his pecuniary interest for the time being to withdraw from associating with us and declines to give us any information concerning what he is doing or proposes to do, leaving himself free to go to your customers and mine and get the business for himself, regardless of price, and securing for himself a customer who has been your customer for years, then I do not hesitate to say that, so far as I am concerned, I am perfectly willing to let him stand outside of the circle of intercourse and friendly conversation and open and above-board fair dealing and frankness in expression, but if I have sufficient influence, it shall not in the least affect the relations of all the rest of us."

Launching of the British Government's Dirigible War Airship That Will Be Used for Both Transport and Observation Purposes.

LONDON, June 5.—The English government, in spite of the many mishaps to the huge German dirigible airships built by Count Zeppelin and the fate of the Japanese army dirigible, is convinced that this style of aerial craft render it indispensable for military and naval purposes. The illustration shows the launching of the great dirigible Mayfly, which will be used in connection with the army maneuvers. The craft will be utilized for transport and observation purposes. The interior of the elongated gas bag is filled with dozens of small separate gas bags, making it necessary to puncture a large number of them before the craft will sink to earth. The craft can attain a speed of about 70 miles an hour.

All Small Game Has Same Season

No longer may the fly hunter roam the woods and fill his bag with quail or squirrel in Pennsylvania, after the season for this game is out, under the promise of hunting rabbits, for Governor Tener Saturday signed the synchronous small game season law, which establishes the same open shooting period for all the common small game birds and animals.

Hereafter fox, gray and black squirrels, rabbits, grouse, wild turkey, quail and pheasants may be shot only from November 1 to December 15. The season has also been extended, and the day of the month will no longer reverberate over the hills in the moonless winter night. Mr. Coon may be killed only during the months of September, October, November and December.

Jubilee Services for Cardinal Gibbons at Baltimore Tomorrow.

Special to The Courier.
BALTIMORE, Md., June 5.—If the Fifth regiment Armory in this city was as large as Madison Square Garden it could not accommodate the crowd of persons who have applied for tickets of admission to the jubilee services in honor of Cardinal Gibbons tomorrow afternoon. The celebration is to commemorate the fiftieth anniversary of the ordination of Cardinal Gibbons to the priesthood and the twenty-fifth anniversary of his cardinalate.

The committee on arrangements, which includes churchmen of all creeds, plans to make the celebration national in its scope. To this end the governors of the various States, mayors of cities, and other persons of prominence to every section of the country have been invited to participate. President Taft and ex-President Roosevelt will head the list of speakers. Others who are expected to deliver addresses are Chief Justice White of the Supreme Court of the United States, Vice President Sherman, Speaker Champ Clark, Governor Crothers of Maryland, Mayor Peabody of Baltimore, and Bishop John Garfield Murray of the Protestant Episcopal diocese of Maryland.

The celebration tomorrow is to be of a purely civic character and entirely distinct from the ecclesiastical jubilee services to be held next fall and in which noted dignitaries of the Roman Catholic Church throughout the world will participate. The present demonstration is designed as a recognition of the influence which Cardinal Gibbons has exercised for high ideals in citizenship and patriotism.

The years of life have told lightly upon Cardinal Gibbons, and to look at him one would not imagine that he is in his seventy-seventh year. Never what can be termed robust, a frugal husbandry of his physical powers has more than atoned for what nature did not bestow.

His Eminence was born in this city July 25, 1834, of Irish parents. During his boyhood he was taken to Ireland, where he received the elements of a liberal education. On returning to the United States it was determined by his parents to consecrate him to the service of God, and he entered St. Charles College, Maryland, where he graduated with distinction in 1857. Thence he went to St. Mary's Seminary, where after taking the usual courses of theology and philosophy, he was ordained priest June 6, 1861, by Archbishop Kenrick.

Father Gibbons was at once assigned to duty, and hard duty at that time, in the city of Baltimore, serving first as an assistant priest at St. Patrick's church, East Baltimore, under the famous Father James Dolan. In 1868 he was appointed vicar apostolic of North Carolina. He remained four years in North Carolina and displayed such remarkable administrative abilities that on the death of Bishop McGill he was transferred to Richmond, Va., where he was installed bishop in 1872. His administration in Richmond was marked by practical results of the most important character. In 1877 Bishop Gibbons was appointed coadjutor with the right of succession to the late Archbishop Bayley of Baltimore. He was installed archbishop of the cathedral in this city February 10, 1878. In 1887 he received the red hat of the cardinalate in Rome at the hands of Pope Leo XIII.

The same energy, zeal and great executive ability which characterized Cardinal Gibbons' labors in other spheres have been displayed in the more exalted and responsible office which he fills at present. He is one of the most democratic of men, plain, unostentatious and distinguished for good sense in everything he does. He is extremely charitable, and his income does not meet the demands upon it.

As a preacher Cardinal Gibbons is always learned and interesting, and often eloquent. His sermons he prepares in advance, but he is also a good extempore orator. Having been so long accustomed to figuring in public affairs and conducting the great functions of the church, he is never flustered or nervous, but when he rises to make an address is composed and fluent.

As an author, the Cardinal holds a high rank in the literature of his church, and his "Faith of Our Fathers" is regarded by eminent scholars and divines of every creed as the masterpiece of logic and literary excellence. With all his learning and attainments, Cardinal Gibbons is one of the most modest of men, and for his broad views, his public spirit and patriotism he is thoroughly admired and esteemed by citizens of every creed.

May Suppress the Alien Bill

United Press Telegram.
LONDON, June 5.—Progressive members of the House of Commons are doing their best to smother the alien bill recently introduced by E. A. Goulding, in committee. The Conservatives are trying equally hard to get it reported back to the House, and a number of Liberals are helping them.

"The central provision of the bill," says the London Morning News, in explaining why the progressives dislike it, "is one to compel every alien immigrant to register his place of abode with the police and to subject him to police control. The professed object of this device is to prevent crime. But Mr. Goulding's real purpose is not to suppress crime, but to invent a new crime. He wishes to 'make' 'alien' equivalent to 'base and noxious' and convert the mere fact of foreign birth into a social offense."

"There may be some Englishmen who find such a proposal complimentary but the mass of them will recognize it for what it is—an attempt to mean passion of race hatred and race vanity."

Another drowning in this vicinity today was that of an unknown man who perished in the Cohanogah river. The body was recovered. The victim was aged about 23 years.

THIS IS THE BEST OFFER I HAVE EVER MADE TO THE PEOPLE OF CONNELLSVILLE.

DR. M. B. BURSTAN.

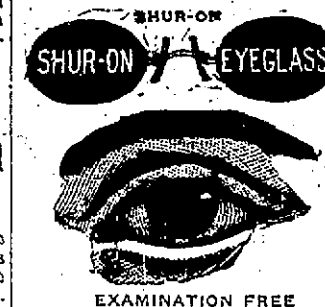

One Week Only.

BEGINNING MONDAY MORNING I WILL FIT YOUR EYES WITH $3.50 OR $5.00 GOLD FILLED EYE GLASSES FOR $1. SATISFACTION GUARANTEED OR MONEY REFUNDED. PLEASE REMEMBER I AM DOING THIS TO BUILD UP A PERMANENT BUSINESS. COME EARLY IN THE MORNING AND EARLY IN THE WEEK AND YOU WILL BE SURE TO GET WAITED ON.

This "Stevens" sale is an advertising proposition pure and simple—your advantage is a superior grade of goods at a special low price—my profit is making 100 new acquaintances and winning their confidence. Stevens mountings are the best in the world—they occupy the same position in the optical trade as "Rogers Bros., 1817" do in the silver line, and "Kluge" or "Walsham" do in the watch business.

SUCH A STARTLING ANNOUNCEMENT no doubt makes you ask if it is absolutely bonafide and if so why I do it. The whole story is this. I have decided to make this unheard-of sacrifice of regular $3.50 and $5.00 gold-filled glasses at $1 for balance of week to gain the full support and patronage of Connelville people and thus build up an extensive optical business. The lenses are the same I sell in my regular lines, every one fully guaranteed, and I use just as much care in fitting your eyes. Difficult cases a specialty.

Headaches and nervousness and other troubles far removed from the eye are often the direct result of an eye strain which if corrected with the proper glasses would give immediate relief. It is not necessary for the eye to be sore to indicate the need of glasses. In many cases the eye may be perfectly healthy and glasses may be needed for the reasons which are only apparent to the physician and skilled eye specialist.

EXAMINATION FREE

During this wonderful sale I will be in charge and every patient will get a scientific examination and glasses properly adjusted. REMEMBER I am making this sale to build up my business and cannot afford to exaggerate. Special prices during sale on specially ground lenses and bifocals.

For balance of week only "Stevens S. Q." Gold Filled Eyeglass Mountings—every pair guaranteed by the makers—fitted with our own lenses—including examination, $1.00.

All "Stevens" frames and mountings are stamped on the bridge—"Stevens S. Q."—look for it—don't take my word. They are gold filled—not gold plated—permanently guaranteed by Stevens & Co., (Inc.) of Providence, R. I. and myself—and will be replaced at any time if they fail to give satisfaction.

Caution about the Use and Selection of Spectacles
Persons having general vision will be able to read this notice. Persons with defective vision will be able to read it with such eye-glasses as they may have. If you are unable to read this notice, you are defective in vision and should have your eyes examined by a competent optician. When the eyes become tired from reading or writing, or if the letters look blurred and run together, it is a sure indication that glasses are needed. The eyes are the most delicate of organs and should be treated with the utmost care. Continued use of cheap lenses will result in serious injury to the vision. Write upon the inside of the temple of the glasses the name of the optician who supplied the glasses.

$50 REWARD.

I have no agents and will pay the above reward for the arrest and conviction of persons claiming to be me or my representative.

The Morgan team did not go to Trauger Saturday. Trauger phoned that they were unable to meet the Morgan watters, but gave no reason. These teams will meet later in the season when a series of games will probably be arranged. Morgan will meet the Huckleys and Hecla teams on the home grounds this week. Plans are under way to hold a festival and lawn polo Saturday evening after the game with Hecla for the benefit of the teams also arrangements to serve meals on the grounds.

In going over the statistics of the team Leo Klingensmith, the speedy little right fielder, was found to have participated in 39 games without an error, and averaging exactly one hit per game and one stolen base for every four games. Thomas leads the swatters. Haley, the base stealing, Robbins in scoring. B. Pruey proved to be the luckiest man on the team in getting his place without a wafe hit, also leading in sacrificing. R. Klingensmith leads in twirling with flabber but a hairbreadth behind. Kano and H. Klingensmith are having a merry fight for short field honors.

At the beginning of this season the batting averages of all the players are considerably higher than those of last season averaging per game. Records are being made for the longest hit in this season per game. Leo Klingensmith, Robbins and Haley have made a phenomenal upward stride in both fielding and batting. At the close of last season Frank Pruey led the outfield but has fallen back, this season owing to his inability to participate in many games. Thomas, L. Klingensmith and F. Pruey led in the long hits. B. Pruey and H. Klingensmith led in stolen bases. Tommie, the catchers and Allen Haberer, who participated in but few games has almost a clean record although he and C. Robbins are at the bottom of the list.

BROWNSVILLE, Pa., June 5.—One woman was shot and seriously wounded and three Pennsylvania railroad shopmen, one of whom was severely beaten, were arrested yesterday morning as a result of a disturbance among non-union men in a boarding house in West Brownsville, attacking shopmen and railroad detectives and deputy sheriffs.

The wounded are Mrs. Michael So nick, aged 55, a boarding housekeep er, shot through the left breast; a critical condition in the Mercy hos pital, Pittsburg; and Michael For ley, former policeman, shot in the stomach, taken to Memorial hospital, Mo nongahela, and later to Monongahela lockup.

It is reported that nearly 100 shots were fired. More than 50 strikers, it is said, stood on the Monongahela river bank shortly after 6 o'clock Sun day morning and cast stones at the boarded-up houses and occasionally at stones into the yards. At the Konik boarding house on railroad property
many non-union men are said to be abolted. Stones were thrown through windows and shots were fired into the building.

Some 500 men, armed with guns,
rifles and shotguns, were struck by a bullet train of 100 cars. Railroad detectives and 25 de puties finally routed the strikers. All escaped except Forley, and two others were killed. They will receive hearings to morrow evening before Alderman A.
R. Day of Monongahela, on charges of rioting and carrying dangerous weapons. Forley, it is said, re sisted fight and was clubbed into arrest.

WASHINGTON, June 5.—Senators and Congressmen from Texas, Oklahoma, Arkansas, Louisiana and Mississippi, "the Red River contingent," have named Secretary of Agriculture Wilson to be inundated these days with maps, stereoscope views and topographic charts of the region in the path of the flood. The Red River is now shut apart as another national park. A call was sent out for all this information which committees in a dozen counties could supply and it includes data on branch heights and measurements, all details of the picturesque Palo Duro Canyon in the counties of Randall, Armstrong and Beckham. The Palo Duro is about 15 miles wide and 10 miles long, the originating point for the freshets of the Red River valley.

This effort has been coming on for many years. In fact, every time the Red River has gone on a rampage they have been saying down in the great southwest that Uncle Sam ought to recommend of many national parks, including farmers' congress stockmen's associations, medical conventions and others that the Palo Duro park be set apart as a reservation, and made the reservoir of usefulness for the floods which have done so much damage through the Red River valley.

"Any one who will take the trouble to personally investigate that wonderful gorge will become convinced that the park is entirely feasible. We have neither the patriotism nor the foresight to reserve such a place as a park our children after us will do so when we go out of the way."

Congressman John W. Stephens is giving this matter special attention and he is assisted by his colleague Hon. Morris Sheppard and also by practically all the national legislators of Texas, Oklahoma, Arkansas, Louisiana and Mississippi.

UNIONTOWN, June 4.—Exceptions have been filed by the Monongahela Bridge Company of Brownsville and by several Brownsville citizens, in court here to the report of the viewers on the location for a joint county bridge over the Monongahela river between South Brownsville and West Brownsville, on the site of the old wooden bridge which was condemned recently by the war department and was torn down.

The Monongahela Bridge Company, of which George W. Lenhart is president, claims that for the two counties to build the bridge would be a confiscation of property, as the company claims by right of a franchise which was granted to it in 1871.

The children exclaimants are Charles L. Snowden, Samuel S. Graham, William C. Steele, A. A. Carmack and W. F. Kates.

This is said to be the start of a fight between Brownsville and South Brownsville to secure the location of the bridge, the Brownsville people claiming the location does not serve the needs of the community. The new bridge was necessitated by the building of a lock and dam in the Monongahela river at that point. The new structure is proposed to be built by Fayette and Washington counties.

Thrilling Moment in International Polo Contest, Westbury, N. Y., England Versus America--Second Match Is to Be Played Today.

NEW YORK, June 5.—The second game of the International Polo match between English and American teams at Westbury, N. Y., which is being followed with great interest, will take place today. The closeness of the first game and its thrilling end have aroused the followers of this form of sport to a high pitch of enthusiasm, and although an American victory seems probable it will by no means be an easy task for the Meadowbrook team, representing the United States, to retain the world's championship, which it won from the Englishmen in 1909. Should the team from across the water win this game the third and deciding one will be played a few days later, and on its outcome depends the possession of the cup. The players shown in the accompanying cut, snapped during an exciting moment in the first contest, are, from left to right, No. 1, Larry Waterbury, No. 2, Harry Payne Whitney, captain of the American team, No. 1, Lieutenant A. N. Dewart, No. 2, Captain Wilson. The arrow points to the ball, which is being stopped by the foreleg of Lieutenant Edwards' polo pony. The Bullsheads' goal post may be seen in the background.
